MIDNIGHT BATTLE.

Lively Exchange of Shots At Empire Saturday Night.

More Than 200 Shots Fired in a Fight Between Guards And Unionists.

The worst trouble of all occurred at the Empire mines Saturday night, if we judge by the number of shots fired. About midnight, while a rain was falling, a number of shots were fired near the mines. The thirty guards on duty, some at the mines and some in the vicinity, responded promptly and returned the fire of the attacking party, who were concealed. More than 200 shots were fired at close range before the attacking party withdrew. As it was pitch dark and raining it was impossible to see the men and it is not known whether any of them were hit. There were no casualties on the side of the guards, who were under the command of Deputy Sheriff Charles Barnes. The county is having to pay dearly for this reign of lawlessness. It is costing $100 a day and about $1,500 has already been expended and there is no perceptible improvement in the situation. The mines are running this week as usual, under the protection of the guards.

COLORED CONFERENCE

Will Be Held In Louisville This Week.

The Kentucky Annual Conference of the C. M. E. church will be held in Louisville this week, commencing to-day. Freeman's Chapel will be represented by Rev. J. W. Luckett, the pastor, who finished up his conference year here Sunday. During the past year Rev. Luckett had succeeded in raising $2,400, and the amount has been used in liquidating the entire church debt, leaving a balance of $400 in bank. During the year there have been 130 additions to the church. It is likely that Rev. Luckett will be returned to this city by the conference as his church is very anxious to have him returned.

ANOTHER CROP

Of Fine Tobacco Goes Up in Smoke.

A tobacco barn on the farm of Al Elgin, in the Antioch neighborhood, was burned Saturday night. It contained 14 acres of very fine tobacco, which was being fired when the accident occurred. The loss was probably $1,000, which falls heavily upon Mr. Elgin, as he had no insurance.

STEVENS LOCATED.

Letter Received Removes Suspicion of Foul Play.

William Stevens, the young man who mysteriously disappeared from Dawson Springs recently, has been located. A letter to relatives states that he is in Mississippi. At the time of his disappearance foul play was suspected, but all suspicion was removed by the letter.

LOST FINE ANIMAL.

Thief Stole Mare From A. R. Parker Saturday Night.

Some thief stole a fine mare from the stable of Mr. A. R. Parker, two miles East of the city, Saturday night. Mr. Parker has offered a reward of $20 for the recovery of the animal, and there is a standing reward of $10 offered by the State for the capture of a horse thief.

New Claim Agent.

C. C. Calvert, railroad editor of the St. Joseph (Mo.) News, has been appointed claim agent of the Memphis division of the Illinois Central.

BAIL BOND

Forfeited And Amount Paid To Trustee Jury Fund.

Two Candidates For The Pen—Grand Jury Reconvenes—Assault Case Called.

The grand jury reconvened yesterday and will probably be in session three or four days yet, as it is understood there is considerable more business to come before that body.

Hudy Waggoner, col., indicted for stealing a bicycle belonging to Mr. Geo. W. Phelps, was tried yesterday and given one year in the penitentiary.

Andrew Munford, gaming, fined $25.

William Mackey, col., entered a plea of guilty to grand larceny, and was given one year.

The case of Tom Monahan, indicted for criminal assault upon the person of Mary Dickerson, was set for trial yesterday and two days will probably be consumed in disposing of it.

Thomas Arnold, col., charged with being an accessory after the fact to the murder of John Cannon, failed to appear for trial. His bond was therefore declared forfeited and the amount, $50, which had been deposited with the County Judge, was ordered paid over to Mr. L. T. Brasher, Trustee of the jury fund.

WHEAT SEEDING.

Preparations Made For Largest Crop Ever Put Out.

Wheat seeding is in order among the farmers and much grain was put in the ground last week. Mr. W. West, of Church Hill, has finished putting in his crop and several other South Christian farmers are through with this work. In North Christian planters have prepared to sow a much larger crop than usual and over other portions of the county the acreage will be very large. Preparations are being made for the largest crop ever put out, in fact.

BAPTIST MEETING.

Dr. Broughton, of Atlanta, Will Assist Dr. Nash.

A protracted meeting will begin at the Baptist Church on November 4. Rev. Len G. Broughton, of Atlanta, assisting the pastor, Dr. Broughton has been here in a former meeting and is one of the most successful evangelists in the South. He has recently returned from a tour abroad.

BARNES-PEDEN.

Wedding Scheduled to Take Place at 10 o'clock To-day.

At 10 o'clock a. m., to-day, at the bride's home, between Pembroke and Fairview, Mr. Charles N. Barnes, recently of California, and Miss Johnnie Peden will be united in marriage. The wedding will be a quiet affair.

HAMBY-CANTRILL.

North Christian Couple Married Sunday at Bride's Home.

Mr. Luther Hamby and Miss Thursa L. Cantrell, a young couple living near Castleberry, in North Christian, were married Sunday morning at the home of the bride's parents. Esq. B. F. Fuller officiated.

The board of ordnance and fortifications has unanimously decided that dynamite gun batteries are obsolete in view of the recent developments in means of defense. This means that we are to have no more of these batteries beyond those now in the service. As a matter of fact, the dynamite gun did not use dynamite for firing high explosives, but wet gun cotton. The experience of past years has distinctly shown that batteries of this kind do not meet the requirements of the service.

tragically cently. There had been an epidemic in the district, and as its ravages ever became greater the villagers finally felt satisfied that it was the work of some evil spirit. After a thorough investigation they arrested a man named Aslan and his sister, and openly charged them with being the direct cause of the disease. The two prisoners avowed their innocence, but the mob insisted that they were the cause of incantations and other evil spells, and that their sole object in doing so was to invoke an epidemic. Without delay sentence was pronounced. Aslan was burned alive on an improvised scaffold and his sister was mercilessly

President Roosevelt's advice to the colored people to divide their votes will be heeded this year by many colored fusionists.

The troops will be withdrawn from Hopkins county tomorrow and the peace agreement will be relied upon to preserve order.

The ransom negotiations with the Turkish brigands will probably lead to the release of Miss Stone in a few days.

Pat Crowe, charged with the abduction of the Cudahy boy at Omaha, has been heard from in a letter, offering to surrender if the rewards are withdrawn and he is allowed to give a $500 bond.

From every neighborhood comes the news that the fusion ticket is gaining strength every day. The party, regardless of party, are expected to unite on one ticket and to run on one platform in Christian country.

The Ring speakers have appointed a meeting for the candidates to meet at the Ring ticket. Let the other side have a monopoly of such disreputable tactics. Break up no meetings. Order no disorder. Hold no line on Nov. 5, and then let them have it in the voting booths, that's where it will count.

An Ancient Foe

To health and happiness is Serofa—as only so over since time immemorial. It causes buncies in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

"A bunch appeared on the left side of my neck. It caused great pain, was itched, and became a running sore. I went into a general decline. I was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had taken six bottles my neck was healed, and I have never had any trouble of the kind since." Mrs. K. T. Stryker, Troy, Ohio.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Lorenzo Snow, the fifth President of the Mormon Church and the official head of the Mormon church, died suddenly in Salt Lake City Friday, aged 86 years. His descendants by five wives are scattered all over the world. His successor will probably be Joseph Smith, who as head of the twelve apostles is in line of promotion, though the election will not be held until next April.

The Ring candidates attempted to have speaking at Bainbridge, Era, Macedonia and other points last week but encountered a frost that could be scraped off with a knife. Everywhere the attendance was pitifully small and the gang already sees the handwriting on the wall.

Miss Stella Emalie has brought a $5,000 breach of promise suit against a young man at Bowling Green, O. His defense is that she is not the same girl he promised to marry eight years ago. Then she weighed 125 pounds and was just a nice armful. Now she tips the beam at 319 and is still growing.

Hon. Bill Thorne, of Henry county, will be a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and he will find lots of people all over Kentucky who are still sorry they didn't vote for him before.

The Republican candidate for jailer of Henderson county is named Henry Damm. His name would indicate that he has aspirations to start a court house ring.

Ellis Glenn has been released on a decision that she could not be tried again as a woman on the indictment against Ellis Glenn a man.

Edward M. Shepard is the Democratic nominee for Mayor of New York. His opponent is Seth Low.

McKinley's head will be on the new issue of postal cards.

SESSION CLOSES.

Paducah Convocation of Episcopal Church met here.

The Paducah Convocation of the Episcopal church was held in this city this week. The session lasted three days. Rev. D. E. Reed of Paducah, Dean of the Convocation, presided. The opening sermon Tuesday night was delivered by Rev. H. G. England, of Cincinnati. Wednesday morning holy communion was administered, after which Rev. Reed preached.

The City Committee met Friday and Completed the Ticket For Councilmen.

The city committee on Friday nominated the candidates who had no opposition. The names of all the nominees appear in to day's paper. The ticket is made up of good men, who have the confidence of the people and they will be elected.

The nominees are as follows: First ward, Capt. Lloyd W. Whitlow, manager of Hotel Latham. Second ward, Mr. Jno. B. Galbreath, Secretary of the Acme Milling Co.

Third ward, Mr. Jas. West present councilman, and a leading tobaconist. Fourth ward Mr. Lucian H. Davis, former city clerk and book-keeper for Dalton Bros.

The two nominees chosen in the primaries are as follows: Sixth Ward, Dr. J. B. Jackson, one of the city's most prominent physicians.

Seventh ward, Mr. J. Gay Duncan, the well known salesman in Anderson & Co's. shoe store.

ROAD "CAVE IN."

Dover Road Sinks Near Herndon—Travel Suspended.

During the heavy rain last Saturday morning a section of the Dover road near Herndon cave din, stopping travel. The section is located in front of the home of Bob McGowan, col. and extends about 30 feet in length. The ground sunk about two feet and is gradually growing deeper. The country around that point is cavernous and it is thought that a subterranean stream passes near where the "cave in" occurred. It may be necessary to change the public road permanently at that point. For the present travel is being done by passing through a field.

SOUTHERN SYNOD

Meets Here Today for Four Days' Session.

The Southern Presbyterian Synod of Kentucky will meet in the North-street Presbyterian church of this city this evening and continue session four days. Over one hundred ministers and a great many visitors will be present. The Rev. W. L. Nourse, pastor of the church, and the members of the congregation have made arrangements to entertain all who may attend.

The Muhlenberg Presbytery held a business session at the church yesterday.

The retiring Moderator, Rev. N. B. Porter, of Louisville, will preach a sermon at the opening of the synod to-night. There are five presbyteries in the synod, as follows: Paducah, Muhlenberg, Louisville, Ebenezer and Transylvania.

ANOTHER VICTIM.

Alonso Underwood, aged 15 years, a son of Mr. J. H. Underwood, of the Antioch country, died last Thursday evening at the home of his parents. He had been sick for about a month and death was due to typhoid fever. The interment took place Friday afternoon in the West burying ground, near Pon.

OUTWIT A CARDINAL.

Statements to an Italian Estate Service on Cardinal Rampolla in Shrewd Way.

Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, is a heavily burdened man. He has not only to watch and counteract the anticlericals of Italy, France and Spain, but he has also inherited a tiresome lawsuit from his official predecessor. When Cardinal Antonelli ruled at Rome as state secretary to Pius IX, another eminence "Palmerini," the wealthiest member of the sacred college, died suddenly, leaving several nephews. For some reason, unexplained as yet, the immense property of the cardinal did not pass to the next of kin, but was vested by order of the cardinal secretary, given in trust to a Count Capogrossi and his revenue went yearly into the coffers of the papal treasury. The nephews protested, but were quietly answered by the bailiffs by the possession of his holiness.

The Italians came to Rome and were followed by the eminent nephews, who instituted legal proceedings to recover the property of their uncle. The case, however, hung fire for years, owing to a preliminary hitch. The plaintiffs could not by any means have a summons served on Cardinal Rampolla, the successor of Antonelli, to show cause why the property should not be restored.

Every ruse was ineffectually employed to corner his eminence and deliver the law papers. Cardinal Rampolla lives in the Vatican, inaccessible to Italian bailiffs, and he never goes out for an airing except in the Vatican gardens and when the lawyers are likewise extraterrestrial. The case had to be shelved until some better chance offered to get hold of the cardinal.

The other week, writes a Chicago News correspondent, his eminence, who had entirely forgotten the Palmerini claimants, accepted the invitation of the French monks of St. Giovanni and Paolo on the Coelian hill to consecrate a new altar, and the law officers, present on the appointed day drove to the French monastery, consecrated the altar, partook of luncheon and when in the evening he came out of the convent to enter his carriage and was giving a parting blessing to the monks, a gruff bailiff tapped him on the revenue and in his hands the citation to appear in court.

The surprise of the nonplussed secretary of state and the horror of the monks is beyond description. His eminence returned home not in the best of humors and had to appoint a great dinner to celebrate the summer vacations.

Egyptian throne in January, 1892, when he was 18 years old. This young oriental ruler was trained in the modern schools of Europe. He and his brother studied together in Cairo, and subsequently the future khedive was sent to the Theresianum academy in Vienna, where he was still at his studies when his father died. At the time of his accession Queen Victoria bestowed on the young khedive the knighthood of the grand cross of the Order of the Bath. His attitude toward Great Britain has not been considered very friendly one, and he showed his dislike to British rule soon after he took the reins of government. Lord Cromer had some trouble in convincing him. The khedive has a daughter, who was born in his harem in 1895. He afterward married the

HE COULD KEEP COOL.

Artist Had His Nerve with Him When the Collector Called.

A few days ago I met with the toughest case in my whole experience, said the agent of a very successful dept-collecting firm. I tackled my man for three pounds he owes a restaurant. He's an artist.

"I'm sorry," said he, leaving off work on the picture and pushing his velvet smoking cap on the back of his head, while he looked lazily at the bill, "but I cannot pay this for a few months yet."

"Why not?" said I.

"Because I have a more pressing liability."

"More pressing than a bill of this kind?" said I, sarcastically.

"Yes, a good deal," he said, "I'm buying a pair of shoes on the installment plan, and the second shoe is to be delivered to-day if I can make a party to my home. The pipe in here," said he, tapping his waistcoat pocket.

"All right," I said, "but you just give that coin to me on account, or I'll sell you up."

"Sell what up?" he drawled.

"Why, these pictures," said I, sweeping my arm in a comprehensive way round the studio.

"These pictures? All right, my boy; go ahead. If you can sell them I'll be much obliged to you. It's a great deal more than I can do." With that he lighted his pipe and went on painting as tranquil as a summer's day. I admired him and asked him out to have a drop of something.

"Excuse me," he said, standing back and regarding his picture with one eye closed, but not even glancing at me. "I never have social relations with my tradepeople."

I was faint when I got down to the street.—London Tit-Bits.

OZONE IN THE AIR.

Scientists Declare It is an Active Rival of Disease Germs.

The effect of ozone and sunlight upon bacteria has been often studied, but without entirely conclusive results. Downer and Blunt in 1878 concluded that the blue and violet rays of the spectrum were fatal to bacteria, and that the effect was due to the presence of ozone formed in such rays in atmospheric air. The question has been taken up anew by Messrs. Ransome and Fullerin, who have experimented on the bacteria of diphtheria, typhus, tuberculosis, pneumonia, etc. They conclude that ozone exercises no appreciable influence upon these bacteria. The virulence of the bacillus of tuberculosis notably is not inflected by ozone, they say. The effect of the ozone in purifying the air is the result of its energetic oxidation of the organic matter in the air upon which the bacteria feed, not in any direct action upon the bacteria themselves. Ozone is, then, no more than an active rival of the bacteria, in which, as is well known, all the vital actions may be summarized as an oxidation, whose effect is to decompose the organic molecules into substances that are less complex and nonpoisonous.—N. A girl may not think a certain young man is good enough for her, but she always considers him too good for any other girl.

A report from Supt. J. C. Gluck, Reform School, Fruntytown, W. Va. Oct. 19, 1900. "After trying all other advertised cough medicines we have decided to use Foley's Honey and Tar exclusively in the West Virginia Reform School. I find it the most effective, and absolutely harmless. Sold by all druggists."

Unless a man has an occasional inning he is unable to enjoy an outing.

Mrs. T. Briddleman of Marshall, Mich., was troubled with indigestion for fourteen years and had tried a number of doctors without relief. After two applications of Banner Salve, her hands became better and in a short time she was entirely cured. Beware of substitutes. Sold by all druggists.

Many a man falls all over himself in striving to get ahead of others.

S. A. Ingalls, Crown Point, N. Y., writes: "My wife suffered from kidney trouble for years. She was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure and in less than a week after she began using it, she was greatly improved and three bottles cured her. Sold by all druggists."

RICHES CAME WITH A ROSE.

Wrapped Around the Stem Was the Nucleus of a Fortune.

There are many tales of suddenly acquired wealth, but usually the facts leading up to such financial successes are dry and uninteresting, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. To get riches and get them in a manner that tinges of romance, does not fall to the lot of many people, but there is one lady in Cleveland that has crossed the $500,000 mark in six months and is still adding to her wealth.

Last Christmas Mrs. M. B. Needham, a widow, of 188 Dodge street, received as a gift from a friend a solitary rose, made more beautiful by its loneliness; but attached to it was a strange-looking paper, which declared that the possessor was entitled to 200 shares of copperstock.

This friend was a western gentleman with whom the lady had been acquainted for years. He wanted to send something as a token of their friendship, and, manlike, couldn't think of prose, which was suitable to send stock certificates. Mrs. Needham laid the certificates aside, not thinking they were of any value. A friend seeing them one day told her the true value of them and excited her interest.

She looked into the matter and found that Amalgamated copper was going up rapidly. Then the fever of speculation entered her veins. She scanned the stock reports daily and gleefully watched her stock soaring higher. In the meantime she diligently secured all the knowledge she could on stocks and securities, and the further she got into the mysteries of the game the more enthusiastic she grew. When copper got as high as, in her judgment, it would go she sold out, and the foundation of her fortune was laid.

Most women would have been satisfied with as much as she had made, but not Mrs. Needham. She was made out of different material. The rose was too fascinating. "Too delightfully glorious, you know," as she said, and she loved the experience, the excitement it brought. She now understands the bewildering terms, and while she didn't plunge, she dabbled quite extensively. At first she thought that the very orthodox folk among her acquaintances would raise their hands in holy horror at the thought of her speculating, and all the transactions were carried on through agents outside of the city. Her courage, however grew with her successes, and now she knows of no reason why the matter should be secret. Every parcel of stock she has bought has gone up several points, and she doesn't hesitate to let go when she thinks it has risen all that it can stand. She has outstripped many of the professional stock brokers that have been in the business for years, as everything she touches seems to jump at once.

"I don't know that I possess any particular wisdom in selecting stocks; there is a good deal of luck in my success, though I always look into the matter very thoroughly, as respects the probable future. You know there are a great many things to consider. The slightest occurrences often disturb stocks and ruin many people. I don't take much stock in tips; they can be had for nothing, and everyone seems anxious to give them. Of course, I rely to a certain extent on some kind of advice from some kind of people, but I can't stand to lose if my own inclinations. In following that plan I have been quite successful, and if I should fail, my only regret would be that I did not have better judgment. There is no reason why a woman shouldn't invest her money in stocks as well as men. It is true that there is a great deal of risk in the business, but the gains more than compensate for the risks. I never invest more than I can stand to lose if my judgment should prove faulty. I feel that one should never risk their all on anything. Never go in a thing hastily in my motto, but drop a thing hastily is another. When I have the slightest fear that my stock is going to drop I sell at once."

With part of her earnings since January she purchased from the Chicago Investment company for $33,000 cash the Victoria apartment house on Dodge street, where she resides. Immediately after the purchase she gave a five-year lease of the premises for a yearly rental of $3,300, the lessors paying all taxes and insurance. The deed of the property was recorded yesterday. She thus has an investment paying ten per cent, without any worry on her part, and the property steadily increasing in value.

CANCER IS CURABLE.

German Scientist Says Disease Is Caused by Parasites.

Their Real Nature and Method of Propagation Has Just Been Discovered by Prof. Schueller, of Berlin.

The death of Dowager Empress Frederick of Germany, who, as is now an open secret, succumbed to that most dreadful of diseases, cancer, calls attention to what is being done these days to conquer this scourge.

There is no doubt that cancer can now be healed in its incipient stage, and Prof. Max Schueller, D. D., the Berlin specialist, claims to be able to cure the disease even when it has assumed its most malignant form.

Next to tuberculosis, cancer is, during the past decades, the most rapidly increasing disease on record. Prof. Czerny, who presided at the recent surgical congress in Berlin, calculates the number of sufferers from cancer in Germany alone to out-number 50,000, and it was shown at the congress that cancer was greatly on the increase in both hemispheres, and also that science was blamed because of the inability to trace the cause of cancer.

The peculiar formations which have formed in certain cells and tissues of the human body, which with relative rapidity increase until they induce death, have puzzled the medical world. They are called erroneously cancer bacilli by the laity, appear in the shape of capsules, which hide the real parasites. Prof. Schueller has at last discovered the real nature of these parasites. He finds that they are enveloped by a silty substance from which thread-like prolongations in a vibratory movement pierce through the pores of either flesh or bone, thus executing their destructive work. It seems that the parasite prefers a lean, dry skin to a smooth, fatty one, which accounts for the fact that most of the victims of cancer are of mature Wheelman Who Caused Trouble for Himself and Companion.

Two West side wheelmen stopped at a drug store to get an ice cream soda, and while they were drinking a man with a hump on his back came in and ordered a glass of mineral water. He stood beside the wheelmen and sipped his mineral water and one of the young men, without meaning any disrespect to the hunchback, said to his companion:

"Touch that hump and we're sure to have good luck." The other young man discouraged the advice by a warning shake of his head, and the hunchback went out.

An hour later, says the Milwaukee Sentinel, they were wheeling along the avenue side by side and quite close to each other, neither touching the handlebar of his wheel, but each with a hand on the other's shoulder. As a matter of fact, they were doing some trick riding. The sound of an approaching carriage was heard in the darkness ahead, and presently the carriage bore down on them.

"Steady now, Bob," said Fred, as they pedaled along swiftly and smoothly. "We can go around this a top."

The horses attached to the carriage had evidently been taking a nap, for when they awoke and saw the bicyclists immediately in front of them they started and shied. One of both of the riders also shied. One wheel made an ineffectual attempt to cross in front of the other and in a moment wheels, legs, pneumatic tires and sweaters were mixed up together on the hard asphalt.

As soon as "Bob" untangled himself and sat up he shook his fist at his bruised companion and yelled: "It's all your fault. I told you to touch that hump." Now he is more superstitious than ever before.

DOG AND COON ARE FRIENDS.

But the Other Dogs Look Alike to the Ring-Tailed Pelt.

George Mechterheimer has a racoon which is about the most intelligent animal in this vicinity, says the New Haven Palladium. He caught it while out hunting one day last spring, and he brought it home to exhibit it to his friends. The racoon was a little fellow, just barely able to walk, and was put in a cage and placed at the back of the saloon.

The little fellow would stand no fooling, however, and at the latest attempt to approach him would snap and bite like a wildcat. He was well fed, and everything done to make the animal comfortable. In time he became more tame, and at last he allowed the liberty of the saloon. He became a favorite with everybody who came in contact with him, and soon learned how to do a number of tricks. He eats a dozen bananas a day, and will go through the pockets of anyone whom he knows, usually finding something. He and Kap, George's spaniel, are great chums, and it is comical to watch the two together the dog letting the coon get on his back and drive him around the place.

Last night two dogs entered the saloon, and the minute they set eyes on Pete, the coon, they went for him. Pete backed into a corner, and, standing on his hind feet, used his forepaws like a prizefighter, and got in so many cross swings, upper cuts and straight blows that he had both the dogs licked in no time. They turned tail and ran out of the place for all they were worth, with Pete after them.

He landed on the back of the largest dog and nearly drove that animal crazy by scratching and biting him.

It was a victory for Pete, and he seemed to realize it, for he walked up to where the bananas were kept, and would not go away until he had one.

A Brilliant Mathematician.

Fletcher Moulton, King Edward's counsel and member of parliament, who was recently married, is 56 years of age. He is one of the few brilliant mathematicians turned out from the universities who have achieved a position in public life. Fletcher Moulton was not only senior wrangler of his year, he did what no other first wrangler has done before or since—he doubled the marks of the second man. As a scientist he is sufficiently distinguished to be a member of the Royal Society. His income at the bar, where he is the first authority upon patent law, is said to approach £20,000.

Osteopathy As a Profession.

Miss Eda Gardner, Cumberland Presbyterian missionary in Japan, says: "Osteopathy has done so much for me that were I choosing a secular vocation for a life work I certainly choose it; and were it not for the time and money required to acquire it, the knowledge I would like to have it as a help in my work in the mission field."

The practitioner of Osteopathy finds himself in possession of skill that the world is demanding, and he possesses and for several years will continue to possess, a natural monopoly of this skill. The unique nature of this skill whereby he effects cures in diseases hitherto unsuccessfully treated, and at the same time copes with equal success in diseases curable by other methods, together with the scarcity of men and women possessing the new power of healing, causes Osteopathy to rank first among the professions in respect to pecuniary remuneration.

In point of honor and honorableness, Osteopathy ranks co-equal with the other intellectual professions. From all the above causes, Osteopathy is growing rapidly by the constant addition to the ranks of men and women, and every walk of life, and especially from the ranks of college men and women. To these Osteopathy offers, a wide open door.

France's Favorite Fowl.

The Faverolles, described as among the best egg producers of France, have recently been introduced into this country. As a table fowl they are rivaling the Houdans. They are called the Dorking of France, they have gained popularity in their country equal to that enjoyed in England by the English Dorking. The Faverolles came as the result of a cross of Houdans, Dorkings and Asiatics. The males—most of them—follow the Dorking for both shape and color; the females only in shape, not in color. Some are cockoo colored; others like Brahmas. In some cases the males also are colored like Brahmas, Cochins and Plymouth Rocks.

Among all none are more attractive than the Salmon Faverolles. The females of this variety are salmon on neck and back, the feathers of which are laced with lighter color. Nearly all have feathers on the shanks. All have a beard and single combs that are rather faulty and inclined to lop or follow the style of the Houdan combs. They are truly the market poultryman's fowl. Their eggs are a pale, brown, rather large, weighing two ounces each. They are said to produce about 250 eggs each per year in France. They are also in this rare case, where they almost continually have either summer or spring weather and very little winter, but even then we doubt their ability to do so. At the same time they are the best of egg producers. P. F. McGrew in Ohio Poultry Journal.

John Feland's Desire to Speak Causes Trouble at Hinsleytown.

Not Allowed to Address a Fusion Meeting, He Runs An Opposition Meeting Outside.

Another fusion meeting was interfered with at Hinsleytown Friday night, and an attempt to break it up was partially successful. John Feland and John Boyd, two of the candidates on the Ring ticket, were present with a couple of their colored speakers. Several of the fusionists had spoken without interruption, but when Judge Cansler was about to speak John Feland appeared in the doorway and asked to be allowed to speak. He was told that it was a meeting of fusionists only, whereupon the crowd was invited out to hear Mr. Feland speak on the outside. A part of the colored voters went out and a separate meeting was held while Judge Cansler was speaking inside. As usual, there was a ring whisky on the ground and after this had been sampled the meeting went ahead. The fusionists finished their meeting, and many who went out returned later and remained till the close.

SHOOTING AT CROFTON.

Negroes Engage In A Row And One Wounded.

Crofton, Ky., Oct. 14.—A row among some negroes occurred here Saturday night and during the trouble Bill Holland was shot twice, once in the hip and once in the shin. They are both flesh wounds and Holland is not thought to be seriously hurt.

Holland and Jim Holmes had some words before the shooting and Holland invited Holmes out of a business house to settle the matter. Shortly after they went out upon the street the firing was heard. It is not positively known who did the shooting, but Will Smith, porter at the Crofton hotel, was arrested, charged with the crime. Smith was taken to Hopkinsville this morning and the grand jury will investigate the case.

Can You Afford To?

Can you afford to experiment with unknown and untried brands of Fertilizers, when you can get right here what you know to be good? Soils are of great variety, what suits your farm may not be adapted to your neighbor's. Experimenting may mean the loss of a crop, as well as the amount invested in Fertilizers. Every farmer knows Armour and Homestead, Eagle and Ox Brand Fertilizers. They are no experiment. Its Time to Put in Your Order Now if you want it to come forward with shipments for Early Fall seeding.
